FEW CHANGES IN OFFICIAL ROSTER HANCOCK CO. FOR INCOMING 4-YEAR TERM

Will Take Oath of Office January 1—T. Ed. Kellar Likely To Be President Board Supervisors—Frances J. Bopp, Chief Deputy to Sheriff-Tax Collector Claud Monti.

With the old year fast ebbing away, Hancock county will enter 1936 with only slight changes in the personnel of the official family at the courthouse.

A. G. Favre, will continue serving the county as its clerk and also as clerk of both chancery and circuit courts, a trust he has held to the general satisfaction of the public. No office in the county carries with it more responsibilities. Its business has been conducted along the most efficient lines and the public has found at all times courteous and uniform attention, with personable service to one and all.

The sheriff's office and also that of tax-collector, presently held by T. Ed. Kellar, must necessarily carry a change, in accordance with the provision of law that no sheriff and tax-collector may succeed himself in office. This trust will be taken care of in future by Claud Monti, best known families of the oldest representative of one of the oldest families in this capacity. His hopes have been realized and on the first of the year he will take the oath of sheriff and tax-collector. His chief office deputies will be Frances J. Bopp and Clairborne Ladner. Mr. Bopp and Clairborne Ladner. Mr. Ladner is not without experience, serving for a long time in the office of clerk of the courts.

George A. Cuevas succeeds himself as county assessor. His success has been marked. No man is better acquainted with the work of his office and it is well that he will continue to serve the public and county to mutual satisfaction.

The office of county superintendent of education will find a new face, Kenneth McCarty, well-known educator of Kilm, elected to this county-wide responsibility. Young and energetic and well qualified, he will continue the splendid work of the present administration in office. Sheriff T. Ed. Kellar, elected member Board of Supervisors on Beat 5, will succeed two terms to the utmost satisfaction, going thru a period of depression the like of which the county has never known. Mr. Kellar is thoroughly versed with the affairs and workings of the county and it is most likely he will be selected president of the new board. Messrs. Calvin Shaw, John Wheat, and Charles Murphy will succeed themselves, and the vacancy existing in the Kiln district (Beat 4) will be filled by Jack Lott, new member.

Hence it will be seen there will be little or no change in the roster of county officials. The future is promising and we look forward to a four-year period of continued success and that the county will go forward, despite undetermined economic conditions.

County Arranges For Immediate Funds to Pay Off Outstanding Warrants

Not wishing to make holder of county warrants wait and to be of further aid to the people, the Board of Supervisors completed arrangements recently with a local bank and during the present week approximately $15,000 outstanding warrants have been cashed, and the county will go forward, despite undetermined economic conditions.

This gesture on the part of the Board of Supervisors is not only thoughtful but appreciated by the holders of warrants several months old. This gives funds for immediate use and indirectly to cause a better financial condition for the holders.

Hancock county is in good shape and it was no trouble for the local bank to come to the rescue temporarily. Its finances are well taken care of. With the continued paying off of bonds falling due periodically total indebtedness constantly decreases. The Board of Supervisors hopes to see the time at no distant date when the county will be back on a cash basis as before the years of depression.

Pass Christian Rotary Club members are enjoying a unique program series. Each week a number of members are called upon by Chairman of the program committee and asked to tell "How I Came to Pass Christian." Ad Lang says "It just happened. I'd couldn't help it."

FLEAS AND FLIES FOR THURSDAY

Night of Next Week—The One Football Game of The Season at St. Stanislaus

The annual Flea-Fly Classic of 1935 promises to be the most colorful of its kind since its inauguration back in 1920. Preparations are under way to make this year's game as interesting as possible. Both teams are drilling hard under secret practice and according to trained observers the game will have everything to please a football crowd. Ordinary football is only part of the program—reverses, laterals, spinners will be the order of the game.

The Fleas are using the Punt Formation with an unbalanced line, while the Flies shift into a Warner System with a balanced line. High interest has been created in the game around the school and regular camps have been formed. The bets are even so far but indications point to a slide toward the Fleas.

The usual ceremony of "burying the hatchet" will take place at the half, but will be more replete with tone and color, than ever before. Sponsors will be chosen from among the convent girls.

Since the game will be at night, a record crowd is expected. Over a hundred tickets have been sold with the demand for more increasing. The starting whistle will open the game at 7:30. The college band will furnish music for the occasion.

PORTER'S SERVICE STATION

To Be Transferred Soon to New Gulf Location, Ulman Avenue, Near Hotel Weston

Paul E. Porter, well-known proprietor and manager of Porter's Service Station, will within the next few weeks move from his present location to the site where the Gulf Company is constructing one of the more attractive fillings and service station, Ulman avenue, near Hotel Weston, Old Spanish Trail.

Workmen are constructing the business building which gives promise of a well designed and finished building in every way. To the rear of this Mr. Porter will construct his residence and nearby there will be a large work garage, to take care of tire and car repair work.

Nothing but Gulf Products will be sold and the usual Porter service and prompt attention will be continued at the new place after the holidays, if not possibly before. However, February 1, is the dead line.

He has been in business at the present location for the past five years and built quite a clientele. Professional, plus personal service, has always been the watchword of the business and this policy will be continued at the new place, "On The Trail."

Automobile License Tag Payment For '36 Due From December 31

It might be well for auto owners to be reminded auto tags for 1936 will be on sale at Sheriff's Office, Bay St. Louis Courthouse, on and after December 1. After December 31 a penalty of 25 per cent will be added as damages. To buy the license tag during December will not only prove a matter of convenience but possibly a saving of heavy damage if the dead line of December 31 is overlooked.

LIBRARY TO HOLD DECEMBER REVIEW ON FIRST TUESDAY

At Waveland Residence of Mrs. George Steele—Miss Sidney Shields To Give Dramatic Reading

The December meeting of the Review of the Month Club will take place on the first instead of the second Tuesday of the month, at three-thirty in the afternoon, at the lovely home of Mrs. George Steele in Waveland. Miss Sydney Shields will give a dramatic reading of her own selection and a discussion of matters pertaining to the theatre as she has known of it from her successful experience of the stage in America. The club program will be followed by refreshments. An admission fee of fifteen cents instead of ten cents will be charged to cover all expenses.

Misses Louise Crawford and Virginia Chapman, librarian and assistant librarian of the Hancock County Free Library, spent the twelfth of the month in Hattiesburg, Mississippi, attending a meeting of District Supervisors of State libraries.

A gift of handsomely embossed stationery and a kit of mending material for old or damaged books has been made to the library by the administrators of Hancock county.

Three books have been donated to the free reading shelves by Mrs. Mae Tudury of Bay St. Louis.

During the last great war, someone in France wrote a long and descriptive song about military life with an especially disrespectful verse on the end about generals. It went like this:

REV. GRAY TO REMAIN IN BAY CITY

Pastor of First Methodist Church Re-assigned to Local Post For Another Year

Seventy-seven ministers, including four new presiding elders, were changed in the six districts of the Mississippi conference here tonight as the appointments for the new year were read by Bishop Hoyt M. Dobbs of Shreveport, La. Announcements of the new assignments closed the annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, at Laurel, Sunday.

The Echo joins the community in the general satisfaction the announcement affords that the Rev. J. E. Gray, pastor First Methodist Church, is re-assigned to Bay St. Louis.

We note in the list of assignments for '36, that Rev. C. C. Clark, Mr. Gray's predecessor, and who is at the present time located at Waynesboro, will go to Philadelphia, Miss., to a larger field and city.

The new presiding elders are the Rev. W. B. Jones of the Meridian district, the Rev. W. B. Alsworth of the Hattiesburg district, the Rev. T. M. Brownlee of the Jackson district and the Rev. H. A. Gatlin, Vicksburg district.

Bishop Dobbs delivered the annual sermon today to the conference, basing his remarks on "The Body of Christ."

Pointing out that the membership of churches today is increasing more rapidly than the population of the United States, the cleric said that more than a million persons have united with the churches during the past 12 months.

The rules and judging of the contest were left entirely to Captain Goldman and Lieutenant Blount. The award will be made to the Girl with the highest number of points and the best character recommendation. The points will be won thru prompt attendance of meetings, work accomplished, general attitude toward scouting and participation in scout activities.

New Exemption State Law on Homestead Now In Active Operation

Senate Bill No. 20, which passed and was approved by the governor on November 24. This law amends the exemption law of 1934 so as to raise the exemption of homesteads from $1000 and 40 acres to $2500 and 160 acres of land, and is effective for 1935 taxes. However, property owners in Hancock county who at present enjoy the original exemption of $1000 and are entitled to the $2500 figure will have to appear before County Assessor George L. Cuevas, at Courthouse, and fill a new blank same to be sworn to. It might be well to attend to that at once.

FRIEND OF BAY ST. LOUIS PASSES AWAY AT NEW ORLEANS

J. O. Albert, 54, Grand Commander of B. K. A., Died Sunday From Heart Attack

J. O. Albert, 54 years old, grand commander of Benevolent Knights of America of Louisiana since March died Tuesday at his home, 2524 General Pershing street, following a heart attack Sunday. He is survived by his widow and three sons, Herbert, Joseph and Leo.

Mr. Albert was no stranger to Bay St. Louis. He was a personal friend of Mayor G. Y. Blaise and others. It was he who headed the annual B. K. A. excursion to Bay St. Louis and brought hundreds of friends this way who otherwise might not visit. And we learn of his passing away with deep regret. The loss to the Association is well nigh irreparable. His family and friends, too, sustain a deep loss.

Born in New Orleans September 11, 1881, Mr. Albert had been a life long resident of the city, and a member of the B. K. A. since 1908. He was a past commander of Pelican Lodge No. 121, B. K. A., of New Orleans, a member also of Ben Kni Ams, fun-making auxiliary of the order, and an honorary officer of the Frank E. Sexton Junior League No. 1, B. K. A.

IN MEMORY OF DR. J. C. BUCKLEY

Friends Donate Bed in Bay King's Daughters Hospital As Tribute to Friend

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Scharff have donated a hospital bed to the Bay St. Louis King's Daughters Hospital in memory of Dr. J. C. Buckley, who passed away recently, widely and deeply mourned.

The bed, regular hospital kind, has been placed in a favorite room of Dr. Buckley, a place where he rather have his patients and which at all times was kept for services in which he was the attending physician.

Mr. and Mrs. Scharff have shown substantial and lasting gratitude and tribute to the memory of Dr. Buckley, a thoughtful gesture and one that should prove an inspiration. And that will prove lasting.

The hospital is in need of many things and recently an item in the columns of The Echo brought forth response, but there are yet many things in the way of equipment needed, and, if noted, will be gratefully received.

Dr. Buckley was a staunch patron of the hospital. He treated all of his hospital patients there and found the very best service and attention at all times.

AT UNCLE CHARLIE'S SATURDAY

Special Thanksgiving Event Announced—Ten Dollars to Be Given Away

The fact that no one was present to claim the $5.00 cash entrance prize at Uncle Charlie's Nite Club Saturday, the amount for this Saturday night will be doubled. Ten dollars is a nice amount of money to get for nothing, and it is possible a reader of this article might get the ten-spot, provided, however, he or she attends Uncle Charlie's Saturday night and is present when the award is called.

The twenty-five dollar prize to be awarded for Christmas is also attracting considerable interest. Only five more Saturdays intervene between now and the time of award. There will be a crowd at Uncle Charlie's the Saturday before Christmas but it takes only one person to capture the nice Christmas gift.

For this Saturday evening, a special Thanksgiving Dance will be presented. In addition to the $10.00 entrance gift there will be favors for everybody, and Uncle Charlie promises, as he puts it, a "good time" for everybody. The orchestra for the occasion will be New Orleans Rhythm Kings.

SUPPORT HOME MERCHANTS

THE best trading period of the year is at hand. Bay St. Louis merchants will soon have their stocks well filled, they will have gone to distant and nearby markets and invested their money on the chance that they can guess what their trade wants and on the belief that our people, before buying elsewhere will, at least, visit them to inspect their offerings.

All that local merchants can ask from buyers is that they be given an opportunity to sell their wares. They should not, AND DO NOT, expect anyone to pay three dollars where two dollars will buy the same thing. In fact, they hasten to add, is never the case. And in fact, the slight savings which some people think they are making by trading through the mail or on Canal street is often imaginary.

Men and women, the buying public, can try this out for themselves. All that they have to do is to visit the local business houses and give them a chance to meet competition. However, be fair. Pay cash and do not expect extras that never go with a mail order price. These include various forms of clever service and assistance, and they are the strong assets of buying at home. No mail package ever brought them into Bay St. Louis.

A little investigation, as to why people buy away from home, has resulted in these facts. The out-of-town stores have wide and varied stocks; they carry the stock, besides the newspapers coming in carry pages of advertisements that is hard to combat with. The merchant must first have the stock, he cannot sell if he has not the goods; secondly, he must tell about it. Newspaper advertising creates trade. There is something akin to magic about newspaper advertisement. Everybody reads the ads. People buy from stores that advertise most.

NO SALESMANSHIP FOR COAST

WITH 133 meetings of all types already held or definitely scheduled for 1935 for Jackson, the capital city continues to be one of the South's leading convention cities. Meetings not yet announced for the remaining two months will run the total above the all-time record of 135 of 1934. Of 174 state meetings in 1935 Jackson entertained 101. Jackson's record for the past four years show 101 meetings in 1931, 107 in 1932, 115 in 1933 and 135 in 1934. The total attendance this year has been 32,635. Final figures in 1934 showed 32,885.

And here is Mississippi Gulf Coast, with its galaxy of hotels, from the de luxe to the modern commercial, with hardly a dozen conventions a year.

Lack of salesmanship is the only reason to which we may ascribe this apparent lethargy. Gulf Coast, undeniably finest section of the State, reached by trains from three directions, by auto from all sides, best all-the-year-round weather and every other condition ideal.

It is time we were selling the Mississippi Gulf Coast. We keep its attractiveness and general desirability to ourselves. Time we were revealing the facts we are seemingly keeping secret. Let us dare tell the world in future!

THANKSGIVING

THANKSGIVING calls for an appreciation of the Divine goodness of God. It is to be participated in only by those who believe in a Supreme Being interested in His children and extending them favors.

Those who do not think that God takes a particular interest in the affairs of mankind should not return hypocritical thanks to Him for something they do not recognize as His blessing. Those who believe in a material universe, uninfluenced by a Deity, are not called upon to return thanks to their material elements. The observance of Thanksgiving, in this country, is a public recognition of the faith of America in a living, personal, benevolent God.

Let us not suppose, however, that Thanksgiving is intended only to extend thanks for material prosperity. We enjoy many blessings that have little to do with wealth or poverty. They abound in every day life, and many of them are enjoyed by millions of men and women together, but, individually, at the same time.

THEY WILL NOT FIGHT—THEY SAY

SOME three thousand students, in a large city, recently paraded to demonstrate that they do not intend to fight for this country "in any war." Similar gatherings crop up in other places and it is not an uncommon occurrence in the country at large.

Nobody gets excited, however, and least of all those who will have to assume responsibility for national defense in the event of war. They are older than the demonstrators and more experienced. They know that these student gatherings mean little or nothing and that the alleged pledges will vanish like snow on a summer's day once the war drums beat and the bugles play.

What we need in the United States is sensible opposition to war, rather than foolish and absurd pledges "not to fight." Any sane program that gives promise of keeping the United States out of war should have the support of all lovers of world peace.

SPIRIT OF CHRISTMAS GIVING

SEASON of Christmastide approaches. It will not be long ere the visitation of another blessed season of joy will be at hand and with mingled and mellowed feelings of all that is good we will proclaim the Holy Nativity and the yuletide in its general sense. Indifferent feeling will have vanished.

It is the greatest season of the year. Christmas supercedes all other feasts and festivals the world over. Christianity responds. The world stops on that day and pays tribute. All avocation and pursuit ceases.

The time-memorial custom of giving will ever prevail. It is symbolic of the season. The Father gave unto the world that day a Son, a Redeemer. He gave eternal life and heavenly bliss.

It was the Three Wise Men, seeing the star from afar, traced its light and brought precious gifts. The proffer was not for the intrinsic value involved but it was a manifestation of love and sincerity that could not be doubted. It was not for selfish motive. Neither for return nor favor, but with that deep reverence born of a glorifying spirit they offered their gifts not only as an outward gesture but as an earnest of their love.

Thus we trace the custom of giving at Christmas time. To relatives, friends, acquaintances whom we might especially esteem, manifesting not only a true spirit but embracing an occasion when we, too, like the three wise men, may show in evidence our feeling of veneration.

It is a man or woman of sordid soul who makes the thoughtless remark, only too frequently each year, "I am giving nothing this Christmas and expect nothing in return."

Surely a person who expresses such feeling has nothing to give. Their spirit is dead. A gift devoid of sentiment is meaningless. There is a woeful lack. People who are selfish speak and act this way. They lack that cultural dimension necessary to make-up to better bring out the God-given qualities and virtues of the soul within the body He created according to His own image and called man.

This Christmas ought to be no different from any other. There will be the usual presentation of gifts, possibly better than last year. Even if it has been called an "exchange of presents," at best could it be but otherwise an exchange of evidences of love and friendship?

Then there will be the usual giving to the poor, the children and others who otherwise might be forgotten.

God instituted a great day in the human life when the Nativity occurred. May the Star of Bethlehem cast its radiance in full effulgence all down the vista of years and may each human heart, even of the few who might say they have nothing to give during Christmas, not even a paltry present, open at least to the extent of so small an aperture as to admit the slightest ray of light and happiness. May a sense of self-consciousness, right minded, kind and generous, find the lost.

WILL THE SHORTCUT INJURE TRADE?

SPECULATION is rife regarding benefits to accrue to this section following completion and opening of Louisiana-Mississippi Short-cut thru the O. S. T. out of New Orleans to the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

Will the Shortcut bring Canal street to the very doors of our shoppers is the vital and one question that bobs up and looms high in the minds of our business people. In other words, will we be placed in such close proximity to the shopping district of New Orleans as to jeopardize the local trade?

Possibly we will, someone says. And again, not sufficiently to be appreciably felt. Our people now shop in New Orleans. They buy principally the things that cannot very well be bought at home or along the Coast. They have always shopped away—to an extent.

But whether they will buy more will not be sufficient to offset the innumerable benefits to be derived from the completion and opening of the shortcut route.

Our week-end crowds will be more than doubled. The visitor at other times will come in augmented numbers and in turn values in reality alone will become stabilized. This will be regulated by demand. It has been said more people will reside here because of the fact one may come and go to the big city within less time than at present and at less expense and effort.

In the last analysis, it appears the benefit to accrue to the Coast will more than offset any disadvantage that might result.

SHOULD A DOCTOR KILL?

A LONDON doctor admits that he has taken a life on five different occasions, involving a newly born baby "clearly doomed to imbecility," and four adults afflicted with incurable diseases.

His admission has started a warm discussion regarding the possible recognition of the right of the medical profession to do so in other similar cases. Opinion, as always, is divided. Many doctors assert that it is impossible to forecast the future in regard to the human body and that the taking of life is always wrong. Others support the British medical man's attitude.

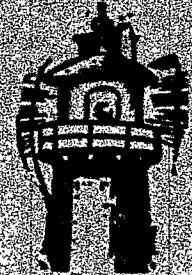

The average citizen will probably be against such acts although many sufferers, facing prolonged agony without hope of recovery, would willingly give up life if not prevented from doing so by religious views.

AT THE VETERANS' HOSPITAL

MANY who reside on the Coast know little or nothing of different places of interest, what is what and what's doing.

Has the reader ever visited the U. S. Veterans' hospital east of Gulfport? The vocational therapy shops are open from morning to late afternoon hours and open to visitors all day. Here one may see patients diligently at work, employed in various craft and other handwork. One may see the men work, view the various things and if one wishes, not obli-

CARNIVAL SPENDING

(Biloxi News)

YESTERDAY there arrived in our midst a street carnival, which, according to its schedule, set up its paraphernalia and opened up for "business." Their varied concessions have been placed in operation, and the barkers shouted to the world in an effort to lure the dollars of prospective customers. In a few days they will move to the next stand, where the field is more fertile and with it will go the dollars Biloxians contributed to the business—dollars many of which rightfully should go to the merchants and business places of Biloxi. That is money which will never be returned here and literally tossed to the winds.

The City of Biloxi, through specially enacted laws, which provide that heavy taxes be placed on such invasions, has tried to discourage the operation of such things in the city. But the "loophole" is always known to the clever managers of these traveling fairs, and are used to advantage by having some organization, powerful in the city in which they operate, sponsor their appearance. Thus the penalty is largely evaded. But the public pays a bill which after it gets an opportunity to think over, it regrets.

Business conditions in Biloxi have been anything but becoming. The merchants and others are in need of this money which in the majority of cases with the spenders, could be put to far greater advantage in providing necessities. It is well known that money is squandered at such places that is sorely needed for other things by the spenders. They usually are caught in the carnival atmosphere, and are induced to reckless abandon in unmotivated revelry.

Biloxi can fare much better without invasions of money-catching. There is no need of such in the city's welfare. It is hoped that the public in general will not over-indulge in the activities, unwisely. Biloxi will prosper more by shunning such businesses.

gated to do so, may buy things for a small sum. It is interesting to watch the men at work, how successfully they strive and what results they obtain. It is an object lesson to people in better being and a visit will prove a revelation. Drive in with your automobile to the rear and extreme right.

V-8 LEADERSHIP

On October 31 of last year, Henry Ford announced his intention to build a million Ford V-8s in 1935. We are pleased to report that this goal was reached in exactly ten months instead of a full year.

One million cars and trucks is an impressive total. But figures by themselves mean nothing. It is what they represent that counts. Selling a V-8 at a low price has brought a new kind of automobile within reach of the people. Producing it has provided steady work for hundreds of thousands of men in the Ford plants, in associated industries and on the farm.

These million Ford V-8 cars and trucks have helped to make things better all around. In the first ten months of 1935 the Ford Motor Company paid out, in the United States alone, $140,119,326.00 in wages and $523,111,389.00 for materials.

"I Live My Life" One Of Year's Distinguished Hits; Joan Crawford Is Superb

Starring Joan Crawford and directed by W. S. Van Dyke, this combination is enough to make any picture a success. In the case of "I Live My Life," the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production at the A. & G. Theater, Sunday and Monday, November 24-25, the combination is coupled with a powerful story, and is made an outstanding production.

Different from any of the glamorous star's previous pictures, it casts her as a spoiled debutante whose love for a penniless archeologist redeems her.

As the archeologist, Brian Aherne brings his finest performance to the screen, making the character a warm, charming and humorous digger of statues.

Van Dyke's inspired direction is apparent in every scene of the new production. The swiftness, easy comedy and dramatic punch which he instills into his sequences are becoming a personal trademark.

Joan Crawford has never appeared more glamorous nor been more beautifully photographed. Her delineation of the gay, careless, heart-free character is the work of a fine actress.

Equally stimulating is the supporting cast. Frank Morgan is up to his old humorous tricks as the bumbling, soft-hearted father. Aline McMahon brings dignity to her role of a woman sadly in love.

Keating as "Other Man" Fred Keating is excellent as the handsome "clothes horse." Eric Blone and Arthur Treacher are two butlers you'll never forget. Nor will you forget Jessie Ralph as the irascible old grandmother.

This is a Bernard Hyman production, with gowns by Adrian, photography by George Folsey, and screen play by Gottfried Reinhardt and Ethel Borden.

You'll be sorry if you miss it.

The Sea Coast Echo

City Echoes

—Mr. W. T. Smith of Kansas City, Mo., is a guest at Bay Inn.

—Mr. T. F. Beachum left this week for Pascagoula after spending several weeks at Bay Inn.

—Capt. and Mrs. W. J. Bryson of New Orleans registered for the week end at the Bay Inn.

—Mrs. Dauphin the genial hostess of the Bay Inn is spending a few days in New Orleans.

—Mrs. Maude Smith left for Tampa, Fla., after spending several weeks here in law, Mrs. E. S. Drake.

—Mr. and Mrs. P. V. Lacoste have returned home from a stay of several weeks spent at Hot Springs, Ark.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Fox of Tallahassee, Florida, are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Drake in Uman avenue.

—Dr. M. J. Wolfe, who recently moved to New Orleans with his family to take an extensive assignment at Mercy Hospital, spent two days of the early part of the week in Bay St. Louis.

—A party was given by Mrs. Kenney at her home in New Orleans, complimentary to Mrs. H. W. Osinich and Hona Ansley of Bay St. Louis and a niece from California who was her house guest.

—One of the happiest of recent events was a supper dance given by Mrs. H. W. Osinich complimentary to her daughter, Miss Cecelia. After which Mrs. Osinich chaperoned the young couples to an entertainment.

—Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. Burrow have rented the attractive beach cottage north of the Charles A. Breath home and will take possession of same December 1, moving from Main street where they have been living for some time.

—After the regular Wednesday night prayer meeting at the Methodist church the members of the congregation assembled at the parsonage and gave an old fashioned "pounding" to the Pastor, Rev. Gray and his wife, and to express their pleasure at his having been returned by the conference to serve the ensuing year.

—Mrs. H. de Ben, who is spending part of the week in New Orleans and plans to return home today, will leave shortly for Jacksonville, Fla., where she has been invited to be house guest of friends until Thanksgiving. After that she plans to spend the remainder of the year at St. Augustine, Fla., where her young daughter is a student at St. Joseph Academy.

—Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Genin returned home during the past week-end from a two-week stay on the West coast of Florida, visiting Pensacola and Panama City and nearby points. Mr. Genin made some big catches of fish while angling in the Florida waters. Mrs. Genin's health was greatly benefitted by the trip and change.

—Three coaches of the Teche Transfer Company motored to Pascagoula Friday night and back on the occasion of the football game, Rockchaws versus Panthers of the city of the Singing River, the latter outclassing our local team by age and weight. However, it was a hard-fought contest and the crowds that braved the extreme cold of that evening were amply repaid for the trip.

Native Now Residing In Illinois Pays Visit Back to Native Land

Mr. and Mrs. Horace V. Toulme and their accomplished young lady daughter, Miss Madeline Toulme, who reside at Odell, Ill., where Mr. Toulme is successfully engaged in business, were visitors to Bay St. Louis Saturday while touring the South and viewing familiar scenes.

Mr. Toulme is a son of the late Captain J. V. Toulme, for years owner of the Crescent Hotel, on the beach and railroad crossing, and who served the city of Bay St. Louis in capacity of mayor for several terms. Mr. Toulme is a native of this city, attended school here and it is a matter of interest and pleasure, he said to be back "home," as he expressed it.

The Sea Coast Echo has visited Mr. Toulme's home in Illinois all of these past years without interruption and he says he eagerly looks for it each week and peruses its columns with that pride akin to the spirit that makes one loyal to his native and boyhood place.

News and Doings of The Movie Stars

MIKEY Mouse recently celebrated his seventh birthday and is probably the most famous international screen figure in the world. Mickey Mouse cartoons are now shown in practically every country in the world, in comic strips in newspapers and with more than a hundred manufacturers making Mickey Mouse novelties that find ready sale all over the globe.

Joel McCrae recently demonstrated his skill in hypnotism to several members of a film cast. Winnie Krause, who had complained of insomnia, was given the "works" and sent home to bed. The charm worked and she slept like "a log."

The new home Claudette Colbert is building is to have an elaborate make-up room, as complete as any studio make-up department. This will enable the star to get an extra-hour's beauty sleep in the morning.

The Hays' office objected to the title, "Snatched," which Twentieth Century-Fox planned to use for one of its forthcoming pictures. After considerable argument, the title has been changed to "Show Them No Mercy."

Sylvia Sidney, who recently was married to Bennett Cerf, New York book publisher, plans to live permanently in New York, going to Hollywood only when her presence was required for picture work.

Helen Wood, a Southern beauty contest winner, of Clarksville, Tenn., knew how to wait and as a result has received a film contract. When she arrived in Hollywood two years ago, she refused to accept a contract for film chorus work and went back home. She has been recalled to the films.

Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers are to be co-starred in a "single-dance" for the fifth time when "Follow the Fleet" is produced.

While most feminine movie fans considered the film actresses as "leaders of style," Bernard Newman, studio designer, comes forward with the statement that Hollywood is the "world's capital of badly dressed women." He says there are only three or four actresses there who know how to dress and names particularly Marlene Dietrich, Carole Lombard and Claudette Colbert.

While we stated last week that Janet Gaynor was to be loaned by Fox to Metro for "Small Town Girl," it seems that Miss Gaynor is objecting to the transfer, terming the substitution of herself for Jean Harlow "utterly ridiculous" and also objecting to taking second billing with Robert Montgomery, Metro's own star.

Following her custom of giving some former star a chance in each of her pictures, Mae West has assigned one of the important roles in her next picture to Conway Temple, star of the silent screen.

CAPABLE CANDIDATE

THE Mississippi Legislature, when it meets in January, will make no mistake in electing as its clerk the man who enjoys the unqualified endorsement of Governor-elect Hugh L. White. We refer to R. L. (Bob) Brown.

For eight years Mr. Brown has been secretary of the State. The duties of the secretary of State and Clerk of the House are very much the same.

It is of paramount importance that legislators permit Mr. White to surround himself with workers who are sympathetic and friendly to his ideals and plans. Bob Brown is one of these sympathetic friends. He was active in the campaign for Mr. White's election.

From the standpoint of integrity and character Mr. Brown has no superior in Mississippi. Few men in public office surpass him in experience and acquaintanceship with Mississippi problems. None are more patriotic and few equal him in capabilities. His judgment is keen and fair and his attitude wholesome and genial.

The representatives of this section will uphold Mr. White. Other legislators are asked to cooperate in like manner. The election of Mr. Brown is one of those constructive steps toward this coveted cooperation.

Personal and General

MARRIAGE AT NEW ORLEANS WEDNESDAY BY REV. M. J. COSTELLO

CLAIMING much interest in the fashionable world at New Orleans Wednesday morning was the marriage of Miss Nina De Buys Denis, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hewes Denis, to Mr. Alexander Foster Fournier, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Fournier of that city, which was celebrated at 10:30 o'clock, at the Church of the Holy Name on St. Charles avenue, before a large gathering of relatives and friends.

The Rev. M. J. Costello, pastor of the Church of St. Claire, Waveland, pastor of the Fournier family during summer, and a warm, personal friend, performed the ceremony at a nuptial mass at 10:30 o'clock.

The New Orleans Times-Picayune gives this account of the beautiful affair:

Glorious clusters of white and russet colored chrysanthemums decorated the interior of the church and there was also a profusion of palms used in the chancel and elsewhere.

Miss Denis was given in marriage by her father and was beautiful in a gown of heavy white satin, fashioned on Princess lines and falling into a long train. The neck-line, high in front and cut round in the back, was trimmed with an exquisite rose point lace border, which was used on the wedding gown of the bride's parental great-grandmother, Mrs. Thomas H. Hewes. Her veil of illusion, arranged in two-tiered effect, was held to the hair by a small Dutch cap of lace trimmed on either side with small clusters of orange blossoms. The bridal bouquet was of lilies of the valley.

The bride had as her maid of honor, Miss Joan Chambers of Houston, Tex., who wore a chic model of pale, gold-colored taffeta made on medieval lines and the other attendants, Misses Elise Simel, Margaret Krumbhaar of Terrebonne parish, Mary Lee Baker, Katherine Legier, Frances Musser and Mrs. Joseph Haspel, Jr. They wore darker gold-colored taffeta frocks made similar to the gown worn by the maid of honor and all wore small velvet hats to match their gowns and carried large arm bouquets of russet-colored chrysanthemums.

Mr. Fournier had as his best man, Mr. Kittredge Dell, and as groomsmen and ushers Messrs. Robert Boylan, Maury Calvert, James Robert, Jr., Miles Kehoe, Arthur Denis, Jr., and Edward Jackson.

At the informal reception following the ceremony, given at the home of the bride's parents on Exposition Boulevard, and which was only attended by near relatives and intimate friends, Mrs. Denis, mother of the bride was receiving in a stunning gown of sapphire-blue flat crepe trimmed with Florentine ornaments and worn with a black hat and black accessories. She was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Fournier, mother of the bride-groom, whose gown was of dark purple velvet with which she wore black accessories, Mrs. Lucien DeBuys, maternal grandmother of the bride, who wore a rich black crepe gown, and by Miss Rosina Hewes, an aunt of the bride, who wore a stylish model of black satin. They all wore corsage bouquets of white gardenias.

The drawing room and other reception rooms of the home and also the dining room were decorated with a profusion of evergreens and beautiful clusters of white chrysanthemums and other white blooms.

Later in the day Mr. Fournier and his bride left on a trip to Mexico and upon their return, early in December, will be at home in an apartment at No. 4916 Carondelet street. The bride's going away costume was of French blue wool-crepe trimmed with black braid and worn with a gray wool sports coat

Names of Various Meanings—List of the Unusual Appeals
To Interest—Ripley Might Find Data For Daily
Cartoon of "Believe It or Not."

If a school child were required to study the map of Mississippi and learn the significance of the name of each town, he would have the sum of practically all necessary knowledge.

Geography. That's simple. Scotland, Ireland, Brazil, Rome, Norfolk, Egypt, Denmark, Cuba and Africa are names of Mississippi towns.

Great military and political leaders: The names Caesar, Bismarck, Napoleon, Alexander, Moses and Washington, will give the essential background and after that Kosciuszko, Kitchener, Vardaman, Bilbo, Whitfield and Brewer will bring history a bit closer home.

For current history, locate Congress, Roosevelt, Veto and Bonus on the map of Mississippi.

Famous battles always included somewhere in the school study, as they are in the roster of Mississippi towns: Bunker Hill, Saratoga, Waterloo, Flag, Banner and Freedom.

History of prohibition, the liquor trade and allied industries may be garnered through the towns: Brandywine, Gin, Rye, Bourbon, Robinson's Still, Bottle Cork, Glass, Lemon and a sherry red suede turban.

The wedding was a prominent event of the late autumn and claimed general interest here and elsewhere in Louisiana.
